

Live for Today. Plan for Tomorrow.

Louisiana Nursing Home Planning

Get Long-Term Care Benefits Without Going Broke!

Just the thought of outliving your assets can trigger fear.

The fact is this problem happens more now than ever before. Thanks to modern medicine, we're living longer.

The odds of needing nursing home care are high. Research shows roughly one out of every two people over age 65 need care – a figure much higher than other routinely insured risks such as homes or automobiles.

Sure, if you can afford a $5,500 - $7,500 monthly bill for nursing home care for you or a loved one, you can skip the planning process. But if you're without these financial means, planning for nursing home care (and potential disease or death) is a practical way to prevent an almost certain crisis.

Families get destroyed when steps aren't taken to prepare for nursing home care. The financial strain can be devastating.

Fortunately, recent changes in nursing home care and benefits have opened the door for help covering costs. So forget what you've seen or heard about qualifying for nursing home care benefits.

You have access to government insurance plans and Medicaid strategies that can protect you when you can no longer take care of yourself or a loved one. Most people just don't know where and how to get them.

That's where the Walker Law Group, LLC comes in. We would like to help you learn how you can qualify for nursing home long-term care benefits.

You can get a personalized Nursing Home Long-Term Care Benefits Eligibility Review with one of our experienced attorneys and learn how much money you could save. The advice is FREE and anything discussed remains confidential. Simply call (318) 445-4516 today to schedule your private, no-obligation session.

Do you or someone you know have a loved one in a nursing home? Are rising nursing home costs threatening to wipe out life savings and family's assets? You need to read this:

Don't be surprised if what you've heard about the U.S. government's best-kept secret for covering the costs of nursing home care is wrong. The decision-makers running many nursing home communities aren't anxious to tell you the truth ... neither are many of the "experts" dishing out advice about paying for long-term care. Regardless of your current assets, you or a loved one can qualify for nursing home long-term care benefits right now. Yes, even if care has already started or you (or a loved one) were turned down before. Far too many families go broke needlessly paying for nursing home care. Imagine your life savings, home and other family assets wiped out in a matter of weeks – even days! Why should you risk being a part of this group? You can arrange your affairs in a way that allows you to protect your family's assets and have Medicaid pay for most, if not all, your nursing home expenses. You don't have to be poor or on welfare to qualify – you just need to know how to properly get your assets in order before you apply. If you, your parent or another family member is headed for a nursing home – or already in one – can you really afford not having insight on how nursing home residents can forget the "Five Year Rule" and get long-term care benefits?

Forget anything you've ever seen and heard about qualifying for nursing home benefits.